A Straw in the Senatorica Contest.

Southern Californians Fare Well in Assembly Committees.

Republicans and Populists Get None of the Chairmanships.

Serlo-comic Episode-Col. Kewen Slaps Maj. Cotter-A Challenge Follows, but No Fight-Big Day in the Legislature.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—[Special.] A joint conference of representative members of the Senate and Assembly has been called for tomorrow night. Action will be taken on the Senatorial question. The matter will be talked over and some uniform mode of action decided upon, if possible. Speaker Gould announced the Assembly committees this afternoon. Finlayson of Los Angeles is chairman of the Apportionment and Election Laws Committee. Every other Democrat in the House was appointed to a chairmanship, and in addition, Carlson of San Diego was made chairman of the Irrigation Committee, a very important position. Burke of San Francisco got the chairman ship of the Claims Committee, and Bledsoe, of anti-Bruner fame, against whom the Democrats refused to nominate a candidate during the recent campaign, was made chair man of the Public Morals Committee No Populists or Republicans were given chairmanships. The naming of Carlson, Burke and Bledsoe is regarded here as a significant straw in the Senatorial fight. All the other Southern California members were assigned to good committees, each one getting on an average three or four places, and there is considerable less dissatisfaction among the minority than in the Senate appointments. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Senatorial caucus this afternoon considered certain minor appointments, but nothing definite rrived at. Senator Carpenter of Los Angeles stated that, while the advisability of calling a caucus to decide upon a candidate who should receive the complimentary rote of the Republicans for United States Senator was also broached at the meeting, it was not de-cided at the time whether such caucus hould be held.

SLAPPED HIS FACE.

The Kewen-Cotter Difficulty and Its Comic Ending. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9 .- | Special. | The Kewen-Cotter serio-comic duel having exploited in the local newspapers, there omises to be further trouble. Col. Perrie Kewen, formerly Assistant Adutant General of this State, is wellknown in Los Angeles. Mai. Cotter is correspondent of the Oakland Times. Kewen, through a misunderstanding slapped Cotter's face at the Golden Eagle Saturday night. There was a challenge and seconds, among whom John T. Gaffey of Los Angeles was named. Col. T. F. Barry of the Third. Regiment, N.G.C., was called in as referee and the matter was without bloodshed. Now Col. Kewen claims that 'Col. Barry unwarrantably brought the National Guard into the affair and threatens to have the latter court martialed on that account

The whole affair is regarded here as a huge practical joke, but if Kewen, who seems to take it seriously, persists in his intentions and prefers charges the trial will furnish spicy reading from a military standpoint.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Many Bills Offered in the Senate—A Big Day in the Assembly. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Sepate.—The Senate convened at 2 p.m., Lieut.-Gov. Reddick presiding. A message was received from the Assembly announcing the adoption of the concurrent resolu tion referring to the Caminetti bill. The Senate concurred therein.

On motion of Mr. Ostrom, a concur rent resolution was adopted, urging Congress to pass the Anti-ontion Bill.

The Committee on Rules decided that the Senate shall meet at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. daily.

1:30 p.m. daily.

A large number of bills were introduced in the Senate, including one by Mr. Burke, providing for a State board of funeral directors; by Mr. Fay for paid fire departments; by Mr. Streeter for the establishment of the county of Riverside. Riverside.

The following were introduced:

By Mr. Hart—Resolution for the ratification of Sacramento's new charter. By Mr. Broderick-Bill for the estabishment of a State hospital for lepers. By Mr. Ford—For an appropriation for a monument at the scene of the Don for a monument at the scale of the ner Lake disaster.

By Mr. Mahoney—Relative to the mode of taxing telephone companies, also as to the charges of telephone companies.

By Mr. Mathews—For an additional State school building for Los Angeles.

By Mr. Ostrom—A concurrent resolution denouncing pauper immigration.

By Mr. Streeter—For the establishment of Elyapside.

nent of the county of Riverside. The concurrent resolution No. 2 from the Assembly, relating to hydraulic mining and river interests, and urging Congress to pass the Caminetta biti. Congress to pass the Caminetta bill, was concurred in, the only members voting against the resolution being Car-

Goucher, Harp, Shippee and names were announced on roll-call, and a large number were introduced Among them was one by Bailey for the establishment of a State reform school. It provides for the removal of the girls in the Whittier school to an establish-ment to be located in the old Home for the Feeble Minded in Santa and inty, and appropriates $25,000 for At 3:40 o'clock the Senate adjourned

The reading of the minutes was dis-Chairman Drees, of the Mileage Committee, moved corrections in the amount of mileage of certain members as given in Thursday's journal. A number of petitions and resolutions were introduced. The Assembly joint resolution urging Congress to pass the Caminetti bill was referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

Mr. Shanahan moved as an amendment the immediate transmission of the resolutions to Congress Mr. Miller of Alameda requested an explanation of the provisions of the Caminetti bill. Messrs. Price of Oroville and Vann of Colusa briefly ex-pounded the benefits of the bill, and protested against the resolution coming out of order.

Mr. Durst of Wheatland said his district had no objection to hydraulic mining under proper restrictions, but he did not think the Caminetti bill provides proper relief.

Mr. Shanahan said the matter had been discussed by representatives of various sections in convention and the bill unanimously indorsed. Aid to miners had always been met with blind unreasoning opposition. Senator Stew-art's committee meets in Washington on Tuesday to consider the bill, and there was urgent need that the Califor nia Legislature should declare itself. [Applause.]

After further debate the roll was called on the adoption of the joint reso-dution. It resulted in 73 yeas, 5 nays. A motion to consider the resolution as printed and to transmit it immediately o Congress was also carried.

The Committee on Rules reported the adoption of the rules of the last session with slight modifications.

Mr. Kahn of San Francisco moved substitution of the committees of the twenty-ninth session, thirty-one in number, for the forty-three committees asked for by the majority party in the House. The motion provoked a warm debate, participated in by Messrs Kahn, O'Keefe of San Matee, Dodge of Alameda, Duckworth of Monterey and Shanahan. Recess till 2 p m. On reconvening the debate on the matter of increasing the number of Price's concurrent resolution for the incommittees was resumed. Mr. Kahn's motion was lost—54 yeas, 44 nays.

Speaker Gould then announced the comgress, and, on Kahn's motion, limiting forty standing committees, was carried Mr. Vann introduced a joint resolution favoring the free coinage of silver P. R. Adams and Mr. Wade offered joint resolutions relative to the construction of the Nicaragua Canal.

Mr. Shanahan introduced bills abolish ing the railroad commission, reassessing railroad property, the "scalper" bill of the last session and a bill for the purity of elections, limiting the amount to be spent for election purposes to 5 per cent. of the salary attached to the of-

Features of the day were debates on dorsement by the Legislature of the Caminetti bill now pending in Congress, and, on Kahn's motion, limiting the number of standing committees to thirty-one, the same number as at the last session. The passage of Price's resolution was apposed by Durst of resolution was opposed by Durst of Yuba, for one, who said that the Cam-inetti bill had been carefully examined by his constituency, and they did not want it. "The farmers had never been in favor of its passage," said he, "and it would be unjust to the agricultificits along the Sacramento, Bear, Feather and American rivers."

In a vigorous speech Shanahan said that the two mining conventions held in San Francisco were composed of mining, business men, agriculturists and people from all portions of the State. The election of Caminetti in a Republican district by a majority of 4000 shows conclusively that the people indorsed the bill. Shanaban's speech was liberally applauded.

Thomas of Nevada claimed that Durst did not represent the popular sentiment of his new constituency. Anderson of Sacramento asked that the resolution be referred to the proper committee, and go over for one day. He thought this action would give better satisfaction. On roll-call the resolution was carried. The only ones voting in the negative were Barlow, Durst, Jacobs, Thomas of Santa Clara and Vance.

Kahn of San Francisco, speaking on his substitute to have the standing committees number thirty-one, said more committees would be a waste of about $4000 of the public money. Shanahan said that at the last session, although there were only thirty-one committees at the start, special ones were afterward created with clerks and stenographers. Furthermore, the ses sion was prolonged to eighty days and the attaches got pay for all that time, increasing the Assembly's expenses for the session one-third beyond those of the ordinary sixty-day session.

At the afternoon session Simpson of Los Angeles spoke against the increase of committees. Finlayson of Los Ange-les thought the Committee on Attachés had a voice in the matter as far as the appointment of clerks went. Kahn's substitute, however, was rejected.

After announcing the standing committees Speaker Gould said that he would claim all the responsibility of the appointments on the County Division Committee, and he/thought the committee was absolutely impartial. He then asked the chairmen of committees to instantly dismiss any clerk found lobbying.

A debate was precipitated over a motion providing for a committee on clerks. After this subject had been clerks. tions and bills followed. One hundred and forty-three bills were introduced, among the more important being the old claim of D. Jordan for $79,000 for work done at the Folsom State Prison. Also bills by Larue for the preservation of fish and game; by Talbot, appropriating $10,000 to send experts to foreign countries to import parasites in the interest of horticulturists; by Simpson, to amend the mechanics' lien law, by Bennett, increasing the number of judges in the Superior Court of Santa Clara county, and appropriating $10,000 for supplying heating and ventilating in the Normal school of San José; appropriating $35,000 for furnishing a training department building for the San José Normal school; by Anderson, appropriating $45,000 to purchase a residence for the Governor; by Burke, appropriating $300,000 for a State building at San Francisco; by Carlson, for the organization and government of irrigation son, to amend the mechanics' lien laws zation and government of Trigation districts; by Barker, for the organiza-tion of Riverside county; by Thomas, that the National Guard shall not be used to quell disturbances growing out of strikes or lockouts, unless the cor-poration asking aid has first agreed to arbitration; by Androus, to prevent the overflow of streams and confine them to natural channels; by Sims, providing for the establishment of high schools in the State.

The Assembly agreed to the concurrent resolution reported from the Senate, urging congress to pass the Anti-Cption Bill, and at 4:15 adjourned until tomorrow.

They Meet and Cast Their Ballots.

Editor Lynch Fails to Reach Sacramento in Season.

Vote Cast in His Place by Thompson, the Defeated Candidate.

I. A. Filcher Secures the Plum of Going to Washington as Messenger-Electoral Votes of Other States

By Telegraph to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9 .- [Special.] The 8 votés for Cleveland and Stevenson and 1 vote for Harrison and Reid. Much surprise was manifested at the absence of Joseph D. Lynch of Los Angeles, and J. F. Thompson, who was defeated at the general election for the same office, was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Lynch's absence from this important gathering was much commented npon, but it is stated a telegram was received from him, dated Los Angeles, in which he said he could not be present until 9 tonight.

There is much speculation as to whether he or Thompson should receive the per diem and mileage, but the weight of opinion is in favor of Thompson, who really performed the duties of the office. J. A. Fisher secured the soft snap of messenger, and will shortly proceed to disburse about $1200 of public money on a trip to Washington and return. This is another defeat for the Monarch, as this morning. it editorially commended ex-Surveyor-General R. P. Hammond for messenger. Mr. Lynch arrived late tonight and is reported seriously ill at the Golden Eagle.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Presidential electors met this afternoon to ballot for President and Vice-President of the United States. All were present except J. D. Lynch of Los Angeles, the vacancy being filled by J. F. Thompson. Cleveland and Stevenson each received eight votes and Harrison and Reid one. Thomas R. Bard, the only Republican elected, cast the latter vote. J. A. Filcher was elected messenger to carry the vote to Washington.
J. D. Lynch of Los Angeles, Democratic elector-at-large, who failed to reach here in time to attend the meeting of the Electoral College, arrived to-night ill with a severe bilious attack. His physician pronounced him much easier at 8:30 p.m.

Blaine's Life Now Hangs by a Slender Thread.

A Rally from His Recent Relapse Oulckly Followed by Increased Weakness-He is Liable to Die at Any Time.

u Telegraph to The Times.

Washington, Jan. 9 .- [By the Associated Press. | Dr. Johnston, after remaining in the Blaine house all night, left shortly after 6 this morning. He said Blaine enjoyed a peaceful sleep during the night, and was only awakened at such times as it was necessary to give medicine and nourishment. The doctor put a much more hopeful aspect to the case this morning, but would not go into details further than to say that the night had been a satisfactory one. At 9 o'clock the attendant at the door of the Blaine mansion said the patient was resting very easily, indeed. Blaine was showing remarkable vitality. In yesterday's sinking spells it was thought he could not survive, but his system responded to the remedies administered with much readiness. One of the closest friends of Blaine, who was admitted to the sick chamber last night, said today: "The light of life in Blaine is going out. I do not think he will survive the next twentyfour hours. His present condition is a struggle between life and the end, which is likely to come at any time. He is, apparently, oblivious of his surroundings, but frequently rouses from his comatose state, and, though too weak to manifest interest in his family, yet he gives evidence of consciousness."

At 11 o'clock Dr. Johnston, who had just come from a visit to the statesman's bedside, said: "Blaine is very much better. He is as well as he was four days ago and has entirely recov-ered from the relapse of Saturday night and yesterday morning. He is quite cheerful this morning and I feel very much encouraged respecting him." Members of the family and others spoke in the compactation.

in the some strain.

Dr. Johnston paid a visit to Blaine between 5 and 6 o'clock. He said Mr. Blaine rested comfortably all day and was much better. He rallied considerably, and there was no reason, as far as Dr. Johnston could see, to expect a fatal termination during the night. Dr. Hyatt, after a visit, reiterated what Dr. Johnston had said about the condition of Blaine during the day and added that there were no signs of a fatal turn during the night.

Washington, Jan. 10.—At 1 a.m. the doctors give out the following bulletin:
Mr. Blaine passed a comfortable day until 8 o'clock last evening, when he became not so well. At this hour, 1 a.m., he is still losing strength.

At 3 o'clock this morning there is ever appearance of quiet within the Blaine mansion. Blaine's physicians on being asked as to whether there is any immediate danger of Blaine's death, replied that he is liable to die

A HUGE LAND DEAL

An English Syndicate Purchases a Vast Tract in Kern County. BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 9 .- By the Associated Press. | Henry Miller, of the firm of Miller & Lux, who owns about two hundred thousand acres of good reclaimed land in this county, has been here for several days accompanied by some English capitalists, his object being to negotiate the sale of the firm's property. Although the result has been kept strictly private, it leaks out today that the sale has been consummated for $2,500,000, and the property will be surveyed and subdivided simmediately, with a view to colonization in the spring.

An Act by the Pope Which is Regarde as Indicating His Choice of a Successor-Other Forelgn News,

By Telegraph to The Times. PARIS, Jan. 9.—[By Cable and Asso-tiated Press.] The great Panama Canal trial begins tomorrow. The government has summoned a large number of witnesses, including Lucien Napoleon Boneparte Wyse, the engineer who claims to have originated the idea of the canal and who is supposed to know great many secrets in connection with the scandal. The men to be tried tomorrow are Charles de Lesseps, director of the Panama Canal; Marcus Fontane, secretary, and Gustave Eiffel, the famous engineer. The charges in the indictment are in effect, obtaining money from subscribers to the canal loans by false pretenses and misap propriating the funds when obtained. Clemenceau was, at his own request Anecdotes are rife of how leading men in Parliament were bought over Some of them are very typical and throw a dash of humor on their gloomy record. The attempt to enslave President Carnot in the Panama accusa tions causes much excitement. As far as made apparent, there is not the slightest evidence of corrupt complicity in the Panama swindling on the part of Carnot. The utmost alleged in any definite way is that he may have perfunctorily given official sauction to transactions on the part of other officials who were corrupt. the republic have, from the first, been avoring to involve Carnot, believing that by bringing about a Presiden-tial crisis, they strike a fatal blow at the republic. Besides, there are sev-eral candidates for the Presidency in the field who would be delighted to see Carnot forced to resign.

Ex-Minister Baihut was accompanied to the office of Examining Magistrate Franqueville this afternoon by his wife. She waited outside the office a long time, looking much worried, and when finally her husbadd came out in charge of two detectives she threw herself at his feet and attempted to cling to him. She was almost hysterical, and it was with the greatest difficulty her hus-band and the officers persuaded her to rise. She followed her husband to the police bureau, weeping bitterly, bu there she was compelled to separate Charles de Lesseps has given Magistrate Franqueville a pocketbook in which he kept notes concerning the re-lations of the canal company with many public men. The evidence is exception ally important. The reports of the company for 1886 and 1888 have been presented before the Commission of Inquiry. Final Report of the Presbytery in the Briggs Heresy Case.

Giving due consideration to the defendant's explanations of the language used in his inaugural address, accepting his frank and full disclaimer of the interpretation put upon some phrases and illustrations, and his affirmations of loyalty to the standards of the church and to the holy scriptures as the only infallible rule of faith and practice, the presbytery do not find that he has transpressed the limits of the ilberty allowed under the constitution to scholarship and opinion. Therefore, without expressing approval of the critical or theological views embodied in the inaugural address or the manner in which they have been expressed and illustrated, the presbytery pronounces Briggs fully acquitted of the offenses alleged against him, the several charges and specifications accepted for probation having been not sustained.

A discussion followed as to whether or not the vote on the report should

A bomb was exploded at the meeting by the announcement by Rev. Edward L. He an nounced the action of the General Assembly of 1892 in calling upon all ministers who do not believe in "inspired word coming to sus without error" to resign their ministry as the cause of his action. He believes there may be errors in the scriptures His congregation, over which he has presided for twenty years, are greatly disturbed over his action.

Arrival of the High Priestess of Theosophy.

An Interesting Chat With the Noted Writer and Lecturer.

Greeted by a Large Audience at Her Opening Discourse.

Death and the Hereafter from a The sophic Standpoint-The Doctrine of stands It.

"Annie Besant, London, England," written in a bold, strong hand (presumably that of her manager) illumined the pages of the Hollenbeck Hotel register yesterday morning soon after the 7 a.m. train from the north arrived. One after another of the local theosoph ists and representatives of the city press strayed into the hotel lobby, glanced over the register, hurriedly ashed out a card for the bellboy to deliver to Mrs. Besant, and, summoning the elevator, disappeared into the upper regions to wait the convenience of the theosophical priestess in the parlor. In the train of high-browed thinkers hovered a Times reporter who was summoned by the manager to a sunny, corner room where sat Mrs. Besant before a table piled with letters. MSS., some (among them volume 2 of "The Mahabharata") a huge ink bottle filled with black fluid, copies of the morning pa-pers, and on the floor beside her a fine, leather traveling writing case. She was talking with a gentleman and ex-plaining to him the mysteries of thesophy

The English mail had just reached Mrs. Besant and she had begun to go through it. On the lower part of the table was a heap of scraps of torn letters, evidently read and thrown aside She wore a black gown-in fact, her costume was dead black from head to foot. It was a loose morning gown of some soft, rich material, trimmed with lace and fastened at the neck with a large set pin.

Personally, Mrs. Besant has a strong face, the forehead well furrowed with lines of thought, large gray eves which harmonize perfectly with her handsome gray hair, which, cut short in front, is thrown well back in a most becoming pompadour fashion. She is extremely large set pin. calm in her manner in private sation, and speaks in an even well-modulated voice, which never rises above a well-bred and strikes one as somewhat o rises As some one has said "she is a million miles above a joke," and rarely smiles, speaking ordinarily with knotted brow, as if constantly pondering the mys-teries of theosophical research. While she is very much at home on theo-sophical matters and talks glibly about astral bodies, etherial matter, electric and magnetic forces, she seems to take small interest in anything else.

"I see you wear a badge," began the reporter. reporter, indicating a six-pointed enameled star on her right shoulder. "Yes, it is a double triangle," she responded. "The characters engraved apon it signify 'aum,' which is a sacred word, meaning the principle which underlies all existence."

The emblem was held in place by the regular badge of the Theosophical Society, a serpentine cross with the letters "T. S." interwoven. "I see you wear a striking ring also," circlet with an immense oval bloodstone setting on her third finger.

"Yes," she responded, with a touch of pleased enthusiasm, "it is Mme.
Blavatsky's—don't touch it," as the reporter leaned toward her outstretched hand with interest. Withdrawing to a respectful distance, the interviewer gazed reverently at the big, black stone, and made out the characters on

Returning to the first question, Mrs Resurt hought a minute and then said:
"Well, theosophy is a theory that looks on the universe as being essential to spirit and intelligence—that great force which brings about all spiritual iorms.'

This was about as clear as mud, but the interviewer "still pursued her."

"Decidedly," was the answer, and a quick, half-suspicious glow shot from her eyes. "what good would it do you? I might be romancing."
Whatever else Annie Besant may do, she is keen enough to never for an in-stant lose sight of the fact that when talking to a press representative, her opinions are for publication.

Since Mrs. Besant has shown such a remarkable faculty of "evoluting" from one hobby to another during her present earthly existence of forty-three vears—having been first an orthodo: Christian and minister in England, the a materialist, afterward a social re former and one of the greatest phil anthropists London has ever known and from that has evolved into a the osophist—it might be interesting to know what she will be in her next ex istence. MRS. BESANT'S LECTURE

Death and the Hereafter from a Theo. "Many people think right, but few have courage enough to speak."

It was an indulgent and, it must be admitted, even an interested audience that filled the Los Angeles Theater last night to listen to Mrs. Annie Besant's interpretation of the mysteries of death and the hereafter as it fell from the weil-known theosophist's tongue in pleasing rhetoric and well-rounded pe-riods. It was not that the thoughts ng rhetoric and well-rounded pe-It was not that the thoughts were particularly striking, that they carried with them a sense of conviction which reason could support, but princi-pally to the fact that Mrs. Besant pospany to the fact that Mrs. Besant pos-sesses in a measure a strength of ora-tory and an earnestness of expression, coupled with the natural articles. everyone feels toward new and seem-ingly impossible doctrines, that enables her to command and hold the attention of her listeners throughout the length of her digressions.

It was when she uttered brief and sententious expressions, like the above, applicable to affairs of everyday life, which she did frequently in the course of the evening's talk, that the audience showed their approbation by vigorous applause.

From the beginning it was plain that her views on theosophy, embracing in their nature the scope of spiritualism, and yet being of larger compass, were radical and pronounced.

She began by taking up the subject of She began by taking up the subject of death and dwelling upon the abhorrent view with which it is generally regarded. That there was a hereafter, she said, both Christians and theosophists were agreed, but the marked dif that the Christian regarded the world to come as a matter of faith. while the theosophist regarded it as matter of knowledge, She asked no one to believe what she would say in regard to theosophy, but asked that they suspend judgment as to its truth until they could demonstrate ference in the beliefs of the two sects that such were not facts. It was possible for the soul to detach itself from the material body and exist separately as an astral or ethereal being. The experiment had been tried and proven, if the evidence of a well-known scientist could be relied upon as fact. While in such a state, the if still connected by a link to the earthly body, as in cases of trance and other unnatural forms, more or less deathlike, that soul would possess a form or body of its own. A like in-stance occurred after death in the evolution of the soul; it would first have to go through a period of trans-formation before attaining its highest and purest form, during which it was rid of the appetites and desires of earth. To produce a materialization of the soul after death would be an injury and result in pain to the immortal subject, as it hindered the process of transformation. The more vicious and predomination. tion. The more vicious and predomi nant these appetites and desires during life the longer time would be re-quired in purification and cleansing hereafter. The spirit itself, she said, was invisible, and could not be seen a all, except, perhaps, under extraordi nary circumstances. Instances of the fact that the etherial state was a reality was apparent when the soul and thought were carried away by some beautiful strain of melody or inspiring composition. When the influence composition. When the influence ceased, the change back to the present was instantaneous and unwelcome, as almost everyone had involuntarily felt. Toward the close of her lecture Mrs. Besant spoke feelingly, urging upon her hearers the fallacy of disbelief without proof, and the folly of the age in hesi-tating to advance the thoughts which thinking prompted them to utter. "If the people of today and of the

"If the people of today and of the past had the courage to speak the world would be advanced in thought now further than it will yet in a hundred years," she reiterated again before making her retiring bow.

The second lecture, on "Theosophy and Daily Life," will be delivered

REVOLTING RAPE CASE.

A Little Four-year-old Girl Brutally Outraged. This city is having more than its share of rape flends at the present time. Hardly has the excitement and disgust died out over the Cummings outrage at the end of the Temple street cable line when a case more revolting than any that has been recorded in criminal his tory pops up.

Yesterday afternoon a warrant charging John Deonisio with rape was issued from Police Justice Seaman's Court. The complaint set forth that on the 7th inst. the defendant outraged the person of a little four-year-old girl named Annie Gianello, but the particu lars are not given.

The warrant was at once placed in the hands of one of the detectives, with instructions to bring the brute in as soon as possible, but up to a late hour he had not been captured, and as the authorities were afraid that he the authorities were afraid that he might not be arrested during the night, the particulars of this most dastardly outrage could not be learned.

Even the residence of the parents of the baby was kept a profound secret and nothing regarding the affair will be given out by the officers until Deonisio is safely lodged behind the bars.

The police detectives are still hunting for Faber, the brute who outraged Miss Georgia Cummings, but they are not so confident of his capture as they were a confident of his capture as they were a week ago. The brute is probably in Old Mexico by this time, as it is known that he took a south bound train after disguising himself on the night of the outrage, and up to date the detectives have not been able to get any trace of him on the line of the road.

The stories published in other papers, to the effect that the fellow came here from Portland, Or., and that he served term for burglary in that State, are without foundation.

He is a printer, and came here from St. Louis, Mo., as stated in THE TIMES, and his parents, who are well-to-do, re-spectable people, are still in St. Louis. At first the detectives thought he was heading for home, and a close watch was kept by detectives and officers all along the road, but he evidently did not go far and must have branched off for Mexico.

Bold Attempt at Highway Robb Last night at 8 o'clock a bold attempt at highway robbery was made on Pleasant avenue, in front of Cummings'splace. J. E. McNeil, roadmaster for the Santa Fé Railroad, was going home, when a couple of masked men jumped from a dark place and ordered him to throw up his hands. This he refused to do, notwithstanding the fact that one of them had him covered with a pistol. Mr. McNeil backed away until he got at a safe distance, when he turned and made his escape. The robbers did not attempt to follow him. Last night at 8 o'clock a bold attempt

The Daily Newspaper.

But few people, comparatively, who enjoy their daily paper, ever consider the vast amount of labor employed in gathering together all that which enters into the columns of the real live progressive daily newspaper. It has its great news associations and syndicates who serve it. Its news-gatherers are in all parts of the world, in every civilized land under the sun, gleaning in great cities their sheaves of facts and rumors; working by day and work ing by night, alike in summer's heat and winter's cold, in storm and sunshine; visiting all points where men most do congregate; on hand to give the details of every disaster; toiling in the midst of danger not less than in security; highways and byways are traversed for information; the railroad and the telegraph are made to help them, and the ocean cable is a trusted servant. And when the news is gathered from the four quarters of the globe, it must be put into shape for the public. The editor comments upon it and draws his lessons from it, ex should be given prominence; the telegraphic editor prepares the "copy"

for the printers, arranging and classi fying the great mass of news that comes flashing over the wires in the manner best calculated to serve the purposes of the general reader. The counting-room journalists, who edit the advertising columns with large type and metallic eloquence, are busy loading up the "display" setters and the "small ad" men with hunks of hieroglyphics. The whole establish ment moves as a single machine, guided by the one controlling mind

the whole army of workers. The city editor sends out his corps of reporters who return at all hours of the night with what they have gathered, and their notes are still to be written out, the details filled in, and the connected story told. The daily life of the great city has passed before the newsgatherer's eyes. He has had a glimps of its light and dark places, of its comedies and its tragedies; he has seen its poverty, its want, its plenty; he has caught sight of its crime and vice, as and virtue, and faithfully he transcribes his observations and impressions. As night comes on, the force of printers is set to work to put the speaking types in their places. The night grows apace;

the foremen, the artists, the proof-readers have all been at work. One by one the pages are imposed, and the stereotyper's work must be done before,

THE people are beginning to understand that there is a park, known as Elysian Park, in the northwestern part of the city. Before the opening, a few days ago, a very small portion of the citizens of Los Angeles had ever heard of the place.

SINCE the attention of the public has been called to the scenic wonders of Elysian Park it is becoming a very popular drive. Over two hundred carriages were driven through the park last Sunday afternoon. No grander drive can be found anywhere on this ECONOMY will be the order of the day in municipal affairs for some time to come. The Finance Committee of the City Council recommends that the Boards of Education, Library and Park Commissioners be notified that they cannot expect any funds during the present fiscal year other than that apportioned in the annual tax levy, as there will be no available funds for that purpose.

Rome, under the skies of sunny Italy, has had a fall of the "beautiful snow," and France has experienced sufficiently cold weather to admit of people's freezing to death, while here in Southern California we have enjoyed almost perennial sunshine, and at mid-day a temperature like that of early summer. Surely there is no land where nature is so benignant as under the semi-tropic skies of California.

It is not alone in the South that the color line comes into prominence. There is a town in Ohio called West Liberty, but the conduct of some of its citizens is strangely at variance with the name. An organization of "White Caps" has been formed, and they have taken it upon themselves to order from the place every negro within it. Yet some of these colored people have property interests to bind them there, and they ought to be as secure under the old flag as the white men who persecute them. Ku-klux and white caps are both alike, blots upon American civilization.

COMING ATTRACTION.—Incog will be presented at the Grand Operahouse on January 12, 13 and 14, by Mr. Charles Dickson, than whom there is not a better light comedian on the American stage. MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—The first Philharmonic concert, which occurred last evening at the Grand Operahouse, was by all odds the most important musical event which has taken place in Los Angeles in many seasons. For weeks the musical people of the city have been looking forward to this event with the deepest interest. Owing to the fact that the orchestra is made up of professional and not amateur musicians, many of whom are leaders of local orchestras, and is under the direction of so skilled a conductor as Prof. A.J. Stamm, the great expectations of the public seemed justified, and they were not doomed to disappointment. PHILHARMONIC CONCERT .- The first Phil

The Coronation march was particularly satisfactory, showing a perfect ensemble and sympathy between orchestra and conductor, while the familiar but ever enjoy-able "Fackeltanz," and the "Tales from the Vienna Woods" of Strauss found ready

The feature of the programme, however, delssohn, for piano with orchestral accom-paniment. Miss Berger has always been noted for the finish and polish of her pland playing, but in this great work the full realization of how great an artiste she is be came strikingly apparent. The power and breadth of the interpretation in the lovely andante, and the brilliant runs of the presto leading up to the great finale, stirred the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. The lithe fingers of the musician flashed over the keys of the superb Weber plano, bringing out its exquisite tone in such a volume of harmonious melody as to win frequent audible expressions of admiration the audience be quiet and submit peace-ably to the rigid rule of the director per-mitting no encores. THE OPINION.

THE OPINION.

This is an action of ejectment brought by plaintiff to recover possession of a certain tract of it we acres and a fraction, which is at present occupied by defendant for railroad purposes, near San Pedro Harbor. Plaintiff claims under a patent from the State of California issued on his application for the tract as tide lands, under the provision of title eight of the Political Code of California.

The defense is based on several grounds. (1.) Denial of plaintiff's title and right of possession for the reason that the patent is void. (2.) Claim of title and right of possession from the patent of the Palos Verdes Rancho. (3.) Grantito defendant from the General Government by act of Congress of March 4, 1875. (4.) Prior grant of right-of-way for railroad purposes from the State of California.

It will be readily seen that of these four men for thirty days to complete the Westlake work.

lines of defense the only one which is con-sistent with the others is the first. That is consistent with each of the other three, and neither of the others is consistent with either save the first. If the premises ever constituted a portion of the Palos Verdes, it could neither pass by the act of Congress in question, nor by permit from the Surveyor-General of California, and vice versa all the way through the Conncilman Munson moved, and it was carried, that the Street Superin-Councilman Pessell moved that the

The question which appears on the threshold is whether defendant is in a position to make this collateral attack on the patent, being regular on its face.

The effect of plaintiff's argument is that until the patent has been adjudged invalid in an action brought directly for that pur-pose it must be held conclusive in all courts of law as to the title of the granted premises. This is a proper statement of the rule as to patents in all cases where the only question is whether proper proceed-ings have been taken to obtain a patent. In such cases, when this is the question sought to be mooted by the collateral at-tack, the decisions of our highest courts present a practically unbroken line of de se. There are cases, however, where the attack is not merely upon the regularity of the proceedings for obtaining a patent, in which the above statement will be found too general, and it is believed that the case at bar is one of this sort. It is not sought to overthrow the patent in this case, for the reason that the patentee failed to take the necessary steps to secure a patent to the disputed premises. What is claimed is, (1) that the patented property was never owned by the State of California; or (2) that if the title was vested in the State, dethat if the title was vested in the State, de-fendant received from the proprietor a right-of-way over the same and took pos-session in accordance, with permis-sion of the proprietors, long ante-rior to the patent. If defendant is right in its first contention, it claims to hold under a different original proprie-tor, namely, the General Government. On the other hand, if the premises belonged to the State as tide lands (and it is not pre-tended that she could have any other claim to them), the defense may be good without attacking plaintiff's patent, except in so far as his title would be subject to the easement.

attacking plaintiff's patent, except in so far as his title would be subject to the easement.

For the purposes of this action, the doctrine of the inviolability of patents is laid down with greater amplitide by Justice McFarland in the case of Gale vs. Best (78 Cal., 235-7-8), in the following language:

"The rule is well settled by numerous decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that when a law of Congress provides for the disposal and patenting of certain public lands, upon the ascertainment of certain facts, the proper officers of the Land Department of the Gale vs. Best (78 Cal., 235-7-8), in the following language:

"The rule is well settled by numerous decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that when a law of Congress provides for the disposal and patenting of certain facts, the proper of the United States that when a law of Congress provides for the disposal and patenting of certain facts, the proper of the United States that when a law of Congress provides for the disposal and patenting of certain facts, the proper of the United States that the sale law of Wischell (19 Septial Propersion of the Supreme Court of the United States that an official declaration that such a case, the patent is conclusive in a court of law and cannot be attacked collaterally. Of course, if looking beyond the patent for a law upon which it is based, it is found that there is no law which authorizes such a patent under any state of facts, or that the patent would be worthless and assailable in the patent would be worthless and assailable from any quarter."

The cases of Smelting Company vs. Kemp-The Company vs canned goods which the Atchison made to protect the Chicago rate against the seaboard rate of the Southern Pacific works a discrimination against the dried fruit dealers both in California and Chicago. The transcontinental patent would be wortniess and assallable from any quarter."

The cases of Smelting Company vs. Kemp. (104 U. S., 636.) and Steel vs. Smelting Company (106 U. S., 447) are cited with approval by the learned justice, as also that of French vs. Fagan (93 U. S., 160.) but in none of these cases are the rival claimants in precisely the same position as in the case at bar. In the cases cited, as well as that from which the opinion is quoted, there is no question but that the General Government was the paramount proprietor under whom both parties claimed. True, in Gale vs. Best and in French vs. Fagan it was held that the jurisdiction of the general land officers was exclusive to determine the character of the land and that their issuance of the patent amounted to a determination that the land was of a character to authorize the patent; but it is not decided that these officers have exclusive jurisdiction to determine that the land covered by the patent is public land; or that it does not already belong to someone else. Were the contest between rival patentees, for example, the land officers would not have exclusive jurisdiction to determine by the issuance of a subsequent patent, that the prior one was invalid, or did not operate as a grant of the same premises. Smelting Company vs. Kemp (104 U. S., 638.)

The conclusive effect of a grant from the State of Califernia can only be invoked under the same conditions, and subject to the same limitations as apply to grants from the General Government, and in the case at bar such effect is claimed for the State's patent, because of its supposed analogy to a similar instrument by which the Government title to public lands is transferred to individuals. But the situation of the respective paramount proprietors is so different, that, so far at least as this case is concerned, the analogy is destroyed.

The State itself had no title to the disputed premises, unless they were, in fact, tide lands. To allow that the Surveyor General of the State had plenary power to make tide lan over the rate situation.

Without the added ill feeling caused by the recent reductions enough cause already existed for fear of a complete demoralization in transcontinental rates. Without two weeks word has been received from an official of the Canadian government that the demand on the Canadian Pacific to meet the import rates of the Southern Pacific would soon be enforced. As the South-ern Pacific's import rates from France San Francisco are considerable less than its rail rate from New Orleans to San Francisco, the demand of the Canadian government will force a 50 reduction on all rates in A reduced rate on wool from California points to the Atlantic seabord has been announced by the Southern Pa-cific, taking effect on the 12th inst. patent, such enactment would be so clearly unconstitutional that scarcely any one could be found with sufficient hardihood to test its validity in the courts.
Where the title of the State depends upon the character of the land claimed, any one against whom a patentee of the State claims adversely may attack the validity of the patent upon the ground that the premises do not come within the description of the lands.

It is arrued by the plaintiff that before the patent upon the ground that the premises do not come within the description of the lands.

It is argued by the plaintiff that before one can be in a position to attack the patent he must connect himself with the original source of title. This is a rule which I believe applies as well to direct as to collateral attack upon patents. (Smelting Co. vs. Kemp. supra.) There are authorities which state that mere prior possession is not sufficient connection with the original source of title to entitle one to dispute the presumptive title of a patentee.

This is true, where the rival claims arounder the same source. Here plaintiff claims under the State, and defendant is in possession under authority of the General Government. If the disputed property is not tide land it belonged either to the owner of the Palos Verdes Rancho or to the Government of the United States. Defendant is in actual possession, claiming under both these parties, or rather claiming under either. If the property is not tide land, then plaintiff has no right to oust defendant, whatever be defendant's title.

Even if this were tide land, and was covered by defendant's easement, defendant could not be ousted from the possession and use of the premises authorized by the prior permit from the Surveyor-General. Whether the two-hundred foot strip which defendant was authorized to occupy embraces the Reynolds survey or not, I am unable to determine accurately, after a careful reading of the testimony, and an examination and comparison of such exhibits as are in my possession, nor do I, in view of the evidence as to the meaning of the term, "Tide Lands." It is such land as is covered by water at ordinary high tide. The evidence in this case preponderates so largely against the conclusion that the land in question was of this character, that it is deemed unnecessary to go over it in detail. Even most of the witnesses called by plaintiff as to this question admitted that whenever it was covered, by water it was either an extraordinary tide, or there was deemed unnecessary to go over it in detail.

Even most of the witnesses called by plaintiff as to this question admitted that whenever it was covered by water it was either an extraordinary tide, or there was a wind of unusual violence that aided it in its flow.
The meager knowledge of the locality displayed by the surveyor who made the survey upon which the application for patent was made, together with the noticeable absence of any pretended knowledge on hispart of the proper distinction between the flow of ordinary and extraordinary lides, will not suffice to support the claims of the patentee against the positive knowledge of other witnesses, whose testimony is given as the result of years of daily observation and experience.

THE gains are still onward and upward. It is no byplay to keep the ball moving in the right direction. We hold out the rare inducement of proper attention from all employees. One of the new ideas is special low prices in Black Dress Goods, Henriettas and Serges. The Dress Goods Department is growing-it is growing rapidly, more rapidly than ever. And now we want your to examine the new prices on Henriettas and Serges, the most staple line in Black Goods. We have obliterated criticism with one word-reduction. It is rarely you see the word reduction in one of our advertisements, and when it does occur it fully means every word stated. We say we have cut the prices on Black Henriettas and Serges, and the word is full of meaning. If every advertisement called for reduction it would lose its force and meaning. We believe in saying and doing what we say. Suppose every week we had some old fake warmed over to make it appear new. Would you not soon tire of this and pass the advertisement over without notice? The clean-cut advertisement of a business shows most clearly the status of the house. In thinking over your purchases drop in and see the Black Henriettas and Serges. Ask for the goods advertised. You will see how eager the employees will be to show you a genuine reduction that has real merit in it. Goods that are right, not only in quality but price as well. he line of $5.00 Cloaks are going out more rapidly since the advent of lower prices in the Cloak Room, Selling more Cloaks than all others combined enables us at the end of this season to offer extra inducements in the five-dollar ine of All-wool Jackets, Blazers and Cape Newmarkets. ou may see something to your liking in the five-dollar line, and if you do you will catch a bargain. The Linen Room is the only one of its kind in the West. This is one reason why we have it. You will see the best Linen stock here. It is Linen Headquarters.

A dispatch from New York gives the following review of the California dried fruit market from the Commercial Bulletin of that city:

"Handlers of California dried fruit have enjoyed anything but an edviable experience lately. Word has come from the primary sources of supply that Western purchases-have stiffened prices there for apricois, peaches and prunes, while even the unfortunate raisin appears to have taken a turn for the better there. Chicago has sent along word that more business has been done and better prices realized in the Western distributive centers. At the last minute of the eleventh hour some Eastern distributors have showed signs of awakening to the fact that there is something more than strong advices coming from outside points, but buying on their part is still conservative in the fullest meaning of the term; so much so, in fact, as to indicate that they are completely indifferent to the oit-repeated prediction that New York and Philadelphia are sure to be left. That prices have hardened slightly during the past few days is a fact, however, and, drawing a line at raisins, perhaps spot stocks appear none to heavy to meet good average consumption from this time out." "Handlers of California dried fruit have mption from this time out."

consumption from this time out."

The Bradstreet Mercantile Agency reports 18 failures in the Pacific Coast States and Territories for the week ended January 8, as compared with 9 for the previous week and 21 for the corresponding week of 1892. The failures for the past week are divided among the trades as follows: Four grocers, 21 varieties, 3 saloons, 2 furniture, 1 general merchandise, 1 provisions, 1 dry goods, 1 clothing, 1 publisher, 1 boots and shoes and 1 jeweler.

The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly re iew of the English grain trade, says: English wheats have risen 5d in London and 1s in several country markets. Stocks are reduced 115,000 quarters. A continuance of this demand would greatly help tinuance of this demand would greatly help trade out of the stagnation that has prevailed. A decrease in shipments from America, and increase in the continental demand for Indian wheat has helped the market since New Year's day. The chief feature of stocks is the enormous increase in the supply of foreign flour. In January, 1892, the stock of such flour was 595,000 quarters. It is now 1,530,000 quarters."

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 .-- The stock market was unusually active today, but withal strong, though considerable irregularity in its fluctuations occurred. A feature of the its fluctuations occurred. A feature of the day was Reading, and the transactions again amounted to very large figures, but this was largely due to the speculative element. The industrials and grangers were strong throughout.

LIKE BOOM DAYS. A Notable Real Estate Deal Yesterday-

Property in Demand. A real estate transaction took place vesterday that caused a greater stir in commercial circles than any single deal since the boom, indicating, as it does. that the people have confidence in the future of the city's growth, and that there is a demand for desirable outside property, when it is offered at reasonable rates. Sunday morning's Times had a large advertisement, in connection with small briefs or notices scattered through the issue, calling attention to the fact that the Kincaid tract, near the corner of Pico and Pearl streets, was to be sold Monday morning, with only one day's advertisement. This looked a day's advertisement. This looked a little bit nervy to even attempt such a thing. Forty-five lots were to be offered to first comers. The large advertisement and the small ones. calling attention to it, coupled with the push and energy of the firm handling the property, Messrs. Grider & Dow, evidently did the work. The sale commenced at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and all but three of the lots were sold during the day. By necessive The sale commenced at so clock yester-day morning, and all but three of the lots were sold during the day. By noon two-thirds were sold, and by 2 p.m. at least one-third of them had changed hands at an advance.

Another notable deal yesterday was the sale by the real estate firm of Brodtbeck & McConnell, for W. H. Perry, to David Remick, of the Wiley Block, on Broadway, between Fifthers David Remick, of the Wiley Block, on Broadway, between Fifth and Sixth street, for $40,000 cush. Mr. Torrance claims that the lamp under dispute at the corner of Broadway and Colorado streets set forth the required amount of glimmer during the month, in which opinion he is tacked up by some of the heighboring residents. Some of the city officials think otherwise, hence the call for a rebate. The board decided that if any of the citizens mentioned in Mr. Torrance's communication would certify that the lamp gregation Sunday morning that the trustees had secured the services of Rev. Florence Kollock as associate pastor of the church, to begin her labors the 1st of February. The society is fortunate in securing so accomplished and successful a preacher and pastor. Miss Kollock has been for more than a year studying at Oxford, England, and traveling in Europe. She resigned one of the most successful and prosperous pastorates in the vicinity of Ohicago (Englewood) after ten years of marvelous growth under her leadership, to spend some time in foreign travel and study. During her stay in London she was repeatedly invited to preach in Congregationalist, Methodist and Unitarian pulpits. Her eatholic spirit, her abundant charity and her quiet, womanly ways, make her deservedly popular both as preacher and pastor. Pasadena will give her a hearty welcome.

The Terminal Station Park begins to show up to good advantage, and before Agent Mills gets through with it it will be a veritable beauty spot. The revival services which have been held The revival services which have been held in the Methodist Church this past week have aroused considerable interest. The Board of Trustees will held their regular meeting last night.

The board is trying to abate the nuisance caused by the Chinese laundry at the corner of Mission and Sylvan avenue. The laundrymen have allowed their washwater to run out over the ground until if has beto run out over the ground until it has become both very unsightly and malodorous, and as that corner is passed by nearly every one coming to or passing through South Pasadena, it is especially advisable to have it stopped.

POMONA.

The Land-grabbers at a Standstill—The City Council. The section of land upon which the grabbers expected to settle is still free, and the people have perhaps considered that the best thing to do is to let it alone. There has been no bloodshed and there is not likely to be any. It was expected that the grab-bers would take some steps yesterday, but nothing out of the usual transpired. Mr. Brown, one of the neighboring settlers, said yesterday that he did not fear any trouble, nor did those who owned the land, as they had consulted attorneys and were satisfied they would have the first claim if any did attempt to settle. They have also probably reasoned that taking a shotgun and blowing out a man's brains may have been an old way of settling, but it is-very poor policy, as State's prison awaits the murderer.

The City Council will meet again this evening, and it promises to be a very important meeting. There are two questions of supreme importance to be decided. One is the calling of the next election, and the or supreme importance to be decided. One is the calling of the next election, and the fight is on as to whether the voting shall be by wards or a general vote. The fight is being waged fletcely, and it seems both sides are confident of victory. One, however, must lose, and, as has been stated in these columns, and in view of recent statements by the Councilmen, that if will be the anti-saloon people. There seems to be a misunderstanding as to just what Mr. Marshall agreed to do, and the election will probably be by wards. At least it looks so now. The other important question to be decided is as to whether Burns and his assigns shall be granted a franchise for an electric light plant. One paper has stated that the franchise was "laid on the table," and another that it was refused. Come, gentlemen, wake up. It was simply laid over until tonight's meeting. It has been slightly amended, and will be passed if the electric light people accept the amendments, which they will likely do. The Council was very free to express itself at the last meeting, to the effect that it did not want to keep forty or fifty thousand dollars capital out of Pemona, and only wanted a few slight and untimportant changes. The attendance at this evening's meeting will be quite large. W. G. Shaw has sold for the Pomona Land and Water Company ten acres in the Monte Vista tract, for $2230.

THE COLUMBIAN'S GOOD WORK.

As one of the many coincidences that good u be accomplished in sending the Colum-aan Number of The Times to Eastern friends, is shown by the fo. owing letter addressed to the author of the descriptive acticle on Orange county and which was received yesterday:

FLORENCE, LANDERDALE COUNTY, ALLA,

Jan. 3, 1893.

"The Olive-Finnie Grocer Co., J. J.

Livernash, Esq., Nord Ana, Cal.—MY DEAR SIR: I have be very much taken with your article on Orange county in issue of Los Angeles Times of October 21, 1892; in fact, it impressed me more favorably than any other in the paper.

"I cannot judge from the communication whether you are a regular contributor or reporter, or even whether you are a newspaper man at all, and a resident of Santa Ana; however. I will direct this to that city hoping you will receive it. I have for a long time had my eye on Southern Callfornia, and 'tis now my intention to go out to your section very soon. Am not an invalid, but of robust health. Would you kindly mail me one or two of your county papers? Should this reach you, will you write more fully? Very truly yours.

"JOHN B. WEAKLEY, SR."

One gentleman who arrived from the East about a week ago called at the Times branch office a few days after his arrival, and ordered eighteen copies of the Columbian number sent to friends, whom he had just left in the cold and blizzard stricken East, saying at the same time, that the papers were the best of missionaries.

Orders may be left at t so office for copies of the Columbian number.

Increase in the Postoffice Business-The Fruit Outlook.

A comparative statement of the money order business of the Santa Barbara postomce for the quarters ending September 30, 1892, and December 30, 1892, just completed, shows an increase of over $5000, the transactions for the first quarter aggregating $10,118.65, as against $15,216.40 for the latter. The total number of ransactions for six months was 5404; total amount of cash handled, $50,670.10.
This statement, following upon that of last week, showing a clear profit to the National dollars from the Santa Barbara postoffice, is a new demonstration of the efficiency of the present Republican management. The Democratic administration should be slow to meddle with a postoffice so ably and hon.

The fruit prospects in Santa Barbara county were never brighter than this sea-son. Rains have been plentiful, no-frosts that could do any damage, or even retard the crop, have occurred, and no more are expected this season. Buds are already swelling, and in some localities peach buds are almost ready to unfold Everything points to an unusually early and large Criminal Notes.

J. C. Smith, the overcoat thief, who was picked up by Detectives Benson and Auble, was before Justice Seaman yesterday and entered a plea of not guilty He was fined $20 or twenty days in the Chain gang. There were seven vags in the Police Court yesterday, and each and every one of them pleaded guilty. They will be sentenced by Justice Seaman today. Ed Smith and George Murphy were before Justice Seaman yesterday for disturbing the peace on Sunday last. They were fined $5 each.

There was also a charge of resisting an officer against Murphy, and he will be tried on that charge today. He is one of the "hobos" that escaped from the chain gang a short time ago, and will now have to serve out his time. R. B. Boyd, the check "shover," was examined for forgery in Justice Austin's department of the Police Court vesterday. The evidence was strong against him, and he was held for trial in the Superior Court with bail fixed at $2000. This is the third charge against him.

Messrs. Govtino and Quarre, the edi-

She had no idea that wine manufactured in this end of the State was so strong, and, in consequence, it got away with her reason before she knew that anything was wrong.

They seemed to be enjoying the affair hugely, singing and shouting about the smouldering rags like savages, though some of the prisoners were almost suffocated by the vile stench created. They will now subsist on bread and water for a time.

RIVE SIDE.

The orange-growers, packers and ship-pers will have another meeting on Tues-day, as little advance was made toward perfecting the organization at the meeting held on Saturday. There were probably twelve hundred carloads, or two-thirds of twelve hundred carloads, or two-thirds of the crop-present, or represented in the agreement already drawn up. But the 600 carloads which will not be represented, as the matter now stands, are a sufficient quantity to prevent the working of the plans to regulate prices—and control shipments. Some of those who were heartly in favor of the organization at first are now almost discouraged and are disposed to let the matter drop. But before the meeting dissolved a new plan of cooperation and compact to bind the producer and dealers was brought forward by a broker, and some features in it were commented upon very favorably by those who were not satisfied with the original compact. New propositions will probably be discussed at the meeting tomorrow.

REDLANDS

The called meeting of the City Trusteeswas held for the purpose of discussing the sewer question. Like all growing cities Redlands has this most important matter to settle, and it has to be settled in a way peculiar to the city, for there is always some element not found by other places in dealing with the question. The Trustees have concluded that this city has reached that stage in its growth where prompt action in the matter is imperative, and they have determined to make all other public works yet to be undertaken subordinate to that of the sewers. It has already been decided to try the sewer farm plan, and a sandy tract of six acres at the west end of Water street has been leased for the purpose at an annual rental of $100. The thing now to be determined is the construction of the outfall sewer to be built for adistance of nearly two thousand feet from the bilind end of the sewer to the farm. It will require a pipe fourteen to twenty inches in diameter, and to construct it will incurquite an expense. Although it was not so decided by action of the board, it is generally understood that action will be taken on Wednesday night calling for bids for the building of the outfall sewer, half the cost to be paid for during the present year, and half of it next year. Whatever may be done, it is certain that Redlands will not be lacking in the spirit of progressiveness

Its board of directors consists of Jotham Bixby, W. W. Howard, Llewellym Bixby, George H. Bixby and B. F. Weston. The police are anxious to find a boy named Thomas Valdesfino, the sixteen, year-old son of a dead Presbyterian minister, who is supposed to be living with a minister in this city. The young man's friends and relatives in the East have been looking for him for some time past, and are very uneasy about him. They have an idea that he is sick in Los Angeles Athletic Club, though not largely attended, was hugely enjoyed by the participants. BIRTHDAY PARTY. A very enjoyable "Bon-bon Party" was given Miss Ethel Stewart, in honor of her twelfth birthday, at her home, No. 1091/4 South Olive street, Saturday last. The house was extensively deco rated with palms, ferns and smilax, while bougnets and baskets of choice roses, lilies and a variety of flowers were to be found in every nook.

At 2 o'clock fifty-two of her little friends arrived and proceeded at once to indulge in all kinds of games until 3:30 p.m., when they all formed in a line and marched to the dining-room, where they found the table laden with all the dainties of the season, in the shape of confections, creams, fruits, Each guest was presented with a bon-bon and proceeded at once to don the many different-colored caps and bonnets, making a very pretty picture. After the repast they returned to their games and gave vent to all their mirth-ful spirits. Miss Ethel entertained them with some of her fancy dances. She was the recipient of many beautiful souvenirs of the day.

DANCE AT THE REDONDO.

The dance at the Redondo Hotel last Friday evening was the most delightful affair of the kind ever seen there. It was the opening ball of the season, and demonstrates that Manager Lynch knows how to conduct a successful ball, as well as how to run a first-class hotel. There were, besides the regular guests of the house, fully one hundred and fifty specially invited guests of the occasion from Los Angeles and elsewhere. About 11 o'clock an elegant supper was served in the fine dining-hall, which was tastefully decorated. The gardens of the hotel were drawn upon for great baskets of carnations, and every lady present had a corsage bouquet and every gentleman a boutonniere. There will be aenumber of There will be assumber of these so-cial entertainments at the Redondo during the winter, and the season promises to be a very gay one. With the dances, the social gatherings in the parlors, the whist parties and plenty of good music, in the house, guests at the Redondo Hotel have plenty to amuse them. Besides, it is not so far from Los Angeles as to pre-vent a visit to the theater when one so wishes. Do not fail to see this favorite resort; for it is not only the best place in the summer season, but without a superior as a winter resort. Charges very moderate.

JANUARY

※ JOGGINGS

JOGGINGS—defined as Pushing or Shaking!

JANUARY—defined as First Month of the Year!

DUSHING or shaking is the maxim we have taken for this month. It will be push every da/, every week; it will be shake the prices every minute, every hour—this is our method of doing a public benefit. Price: are what tell and politeness thrown ingratis. Old fogies that hold up prices and haven't sabe enough to let them down after January 1, are the ones that sell you affability, but when values are sought for they are only found at progressive establishments. Every merchant knows that values change. Wares bought in september are not worth market price in January; merchants can buy the same wares 15 per cent. and often 25 per cent. less in January than September, why then not reduce the price if they are not ary than September, why then not reduce the price if they are not worth today's cost in the open market. This is January Joggings—we jog the trade, we push the trade, we shake the prices. In cutting off this surplus of undervalue we reach a near cost, we reach a figure that moves some fogy merchants to cry, to appeal to the public, "Save us, we sink; please save us for we are polite!"

crowds were with us yes erday—they will be with us today—and we'll keep jogging along to bring them to our counters all the month. Read our jogs-real January Joggin is.
